

INNOMINATE NATURE

I am not my body.
It is only the barrier between me and the deep of the night
When the cool wet silence releases me and I soar.

I did not emerge 'new'
My cocoon only catalysed
how I feel to be here
And discoveries beyond words of my unnamed self

My interests are not governed by these restrictions
But they bind me
Who I am is not defined by my failings
But it affects me
Where I come from does does not define me
But it informs me
How I live will not be represented in your fantasies
But in mine
